The title of proposed project → CHURCH STREET WALK

“The subjective analysis, mental reaction, to the neighbourhood behaviours related to the geographic location. A chronological process based on the order of appearance of observed topics, with the time delayed inclusion of other relevant instances. Reflexivity journals will be produced after this event”.

This walk is around 3.5 km long and it will take approximately 2 hours to perform. There will be a group of people invited from the St. Lawrence neighbourhood group, Jamii Esplanade – creating local arts-based experiences, St. Lawrence Market Business Improvement Association and report will be produced, prepared for on-line and printed version by me in rich visual and interactive PDF document and used for local urban improvements.

Let me list just some of public institutions in this multicultural street:

Toronto Islamic Centre, Hillsong Church, St. Christadelphians, Toronto Public Reference Library, The Salvation Army Toronto, Grace Health Centre, Toronto’s LGBTQ+ community – Church-Wellesley Village, AIDS Memorial in Barbara Hall Park, TAIE boarding high school, Ryerson University, The Society of Saint Vincent de Paul, St. Michael’s Cathedral Basilica, St. Michael’s Hospital, Metropolitan United Church, Masjid Toronto, The Cathedral Church of St. James, Anglican Diocese of Toronto, Lakehead University, Gooderham Flatiron Building.

Church Street is on the west edge of 10-block “Old” town laid out in 1793 on a site selected by Lieutenant-Governor John Graves Simcoe in the eastern part of the lands reserved for government use, and in proximity to the historic St. Lawrence Market.

Walk true this Street is very unique experience, rare not only for Toronto where 50% of the people are born outside of the country, but unique anywhere in the world. I can bet that you would “love to be here”.
